You are planning your holiday and you want to arrange who will sleep where in the house

Bedroom 1

- ❖ For the person who has made the booking and done all the hard work sorting out the holiday
- ❖ Emperor bed (6ft 4ins by 7ft) - suitable for a couple with plenty of room for young children to sleep in between, if they don't want to sleep away from parents or grandparents
- ❖ Great for family to meet up in the morning and all sit around in bed together
- ❖ Not for light sleepers as outside street light can't be switched off and black out blinds only partially effective
- ❖ Sitting up in bed, you can see cows grazing on the Cotswold escarpment
- ❖ Overlooks small business units - they can't see you but you can see them
- ❖ Ensuite bathroom with (power) shower over the bath and his and her wash basins

Bedroom 2

- ❖ Double bed - suitable for a couple
- ❖ Shutters on the large windows - good if you like darkness
- ❖ Front of house next to market square (now used for public car parking)
- ❖ Sitting up in bed in the morning is interesting because you can see the life in the market square without anyone knowing that you are watching them...
- ❖ The morning sun comes into this room
- ❖ Ensuite (power) shower room

Bedroom 3

- ❖ Twin beds
- ❖ Shutters on the window - this is the room if you have children who can only sleep in darkness
- ❖ Front of house next to market square (now used for public car parking)
- ❖ The morning sun streams into this room
- ❖ Good light for reading in bed

Bedroom 4

- ❖ Twin beds
- ❖ Curtains at window with a black out blind but the morning sun still comes into the room
- ❖ Front of house next to market square (now used for public car parking)

- ❖ Good lighting for reading in bed
- ❖ At the top of stairs so good if you need to supervise children
- ❖ Smallest room but still plenty of space for two people

Bedroom 5

- ❖ Together with Bedroom 6 (see next page) forms a family suite sleeping six
- ❖ In bedroom 5, two captain beds that are singles with beds underneath that slide out. These can form either three singles (two 3ft & one 2ft 6ins) or one double (5 ft 6ins) plus one single (3 ft)
- ❖ Curtains at windows both with a black out blind but the morning sun still comes into the room
- ❖ Front of house next to market square (now used for public car parking)
- ❖ At top of main staircase and easy to access (where our 89 year old father used to live, for example as you can hear the sounds of the house when in bed and so you don't feel cut off)
- ❖ Walk through room to Bedroom 6 so occupants of Bedroom 6 must know the occupants of bedroom 5 (and vice versa)
- ❖ Choice of bathrooms (family bathroom just outside bedroom or stairs up to Bedroom 6)
- ❖ Cot - can be moved to another room

Bedroom 6

- ❖ Three single beds accessed through Bedroom 5
- ❖ Restricted to a maximum of three people at any time
- ❖ Bedroom door that closes so can be separate from Bedroom 5
- ❖ Blinds on windows (the bedroom has a black out blind) but still let in some light
- ❖ Large roof windows only and so a lot of privacy
- ❖ No noise from the rest of the house
- ❖ Features exposed beams in ceiling that were, before the house was built in the late eighteenth century, ships' timbers
- ❖ Ensuite (power) shower room
- ❖ Saniflo lavatory system and so great care in what you put down the loo
